
Exploratory comparison, not part of the pre-registered decision rules. Grey segments join the two solvers' runs for the same event and execution. CPU time and peak working set are whole-process measurements, including the Python service and native solver threads.